Overview

Dan Shih is a partner in the firm's Seattle office. He has represented clients in state and federal courts across the country in a wide variety of high-stakes commercial and complex litigation matters.

Mr. Shih is proud to have represented clients in litigation concerning:

- Class actions dealing with consumer fraud, unfair competition, securities, and constitutional issues
- Contract disputes
- Patent infringement and other intellectual property disputes
- Appeals before the Supreme Court of Washington, the Supreme Court of the United States, the Ninth Circuit, and the Federal Circuit

Notable Representations

Class Actions

- Represented an investor class in a securities fraud and insider-trading lawsuit in the Western District of Washington against Dendreon, a Seattle-based biotechnology company, and two of its officers. After plaintiffs won class certification and responded to defendants' motion for summary judgment, defendants settled the case for $16.5 million.
- Represented a nationwide class claiming Google overcharged for web ads in the Northern District of California and on appeal in the Ninth Circuit. After plaintiffs substantially defeated multiple motions for summary judgment, Google settled the case for $20 million.
- Tried case on behalf of a statewide class alleging violations of California's Unfair Competition Law by multiple companies. Presented and cross-examined expert witnesses, and argued and defeated multiple motions for summary adjudication, in Los Angeles County Superior Court.

Contract Disputes and Business Torts

- Represented seafood wholesaler Galaxy Foods in bringing breach-of-warranty claims over unmerchantable fish against a major salmon processor in the Western District of Washington. Case settled on mutually satisfactory terms.
 - Defended CNA Financial Corporation and Continental Casualty Company against contract, negligence, fraud, and insurer bad faith allegations in a $150 million dispute over the settlement of a medical malpractice claim in the District of Oregon. Clients obtained a complete win on summary judgment, which was affirmed on appeal.
 - Defended subsidiaries of Arctic Slope Regional Corporation against broker's claim for commissions on a billion-dollar government contract in the District of Maryland. Client prevailed on all claims on summary judgment.
 - Investigated secondary-liability claims arising from a multibillion dollar Ponzi scheme in Minnesota.

Patent Litigation

- Represented the California Institute of Technology in patent infringement dispute against Samsung involving communications encoding technology in the Eastern District of Texas. The case settled for a confidential amount shortly before trial.
- Represented Sol IP in a complex patent infringement dispute against wireless carriers AT&T, Sprint, and Verizon in the Eastern District of Texas. The cases involved cellular and Wi-Fi technologies covered by 27 patents developed by a South Korean government-funded research institute. The cases settled for confidential amounts shortly before trial.
